Certayne necessarie Rules concerning Phisicke and Chyrurgerie, worthy the obseruation amongst

When the ayre declineth from a temperature, to extremitie of heate or colde, it is wholsome eyther to Purge, or to be let Blood, onelesse some great and vrgent necessitie do extraordinarily exact it.

Cancer, Aquarius, and Pisces, are the best Signes to let blood in, wherefore Phlebotomie may be most safely vsed when the Moone is mouing in any of these signes.

Item, the day before, the day it selfe, and the day after the change or full of the Moone, are to be auoyded in letting of Blood.

In Phlebotomy, Gemini, which ruleth the Armes, and Leo, which gouerneth the Heart, the first and last lying member in mans body, together with the last halfe of Libra, and the first halfe of Scorpio, which is vsually called the Combust way, as also the whole earthy tripliciete Taurus, Virgo, Capricornus, are to be shunned as vnmeete and vnwholsome.

Finally this is cheefly and especially to be alwayes remembred, that no part in mans body ought to be touched with any Chyrurgeons instrument whatsoeuer, when eyther the Sunne, the Moone, or the lord of the Ascendent, which is the signe then ayding in the East, is appointed within the same signe that ruleth that very part or member of mans body.

Notwithstanding all that is aforesayd, or any other circumstances artificiall that may be sayd out of Astrologicall elections, if this blood letting be for a great continuall Headach, proceeding of blood, or cholleriche matter, for any burneyng hotte Ague, or any such other lyke importunate & insufferable payne, the poore patient in such an extremitie must not tarry for a chosen day declared in an Almanacke, because he myght perhaps perishe in the meane whyle, but presently with all good and conconuenient speede, his violent griefe is to be appeased by this meane, vnlesse hymselfe be eyther so very sicke and weake, that he cannot possibly suffer it, or els the Moone be in the signe that ruleth the part of the afflicted body which shoulde be Phlebotomized.

Notes for the ministring of Purgations.

The tymes most conuenient to Purge with Electuaries, is when the Moone is placed in Cancer; with Potions, when she is placed in Scorpius; and with Pylles, when she is placed in Pisces, the body beyng before prepared, as is conuenient.

As mylde Purgations which worke gently, and Glysters, they may be ministred indifferently at all tymes without any great inconuenience.

But purge by Vomite, when the Moone abydeth in signo commune: as namely in Aries, Taurus, or Capricorne.

Gargarismes are best vsed when the Moone is placed in Aries or in Cancer.

As for the foure naturall Powers, serning for mayntenement: it woulde be noted, that the vertue Attractiue is best comforted, when the Moone is in a fyery Signe, as in Aries, Leo, or Sagittarius: the vertue Retentiue, when the Moone is in an earthy Signe, as eyther in Taurus, Virgo, or Capricornus: the vertue Digestiue, when the Moone is in an ayery Signe, as in Gemini, Libra, or Aquarius: and the vertue Expulsiue, when the Moone is in a watry Signe, as in Cancer, Scorpius, or in Pisces.

Gabriel Frende

his Prognostication

for the yeere of our Lord Iesus Christe.

M.D.XCVII.

Wherein is contayned an Astrological description of the foure quarters of the yeere: with other matters incident to such a worke.

Imprinted at London, by Richarde Watkins and Iames Roberts.

Cum priuilegio Regiæ Maiestatis.

A declaration of the foure quarters of this yeere of our Lord God. 1597.

Of Winter.

Both colde and moyſt this ſeaſon is by kind,
And ſeemeth not ſo pleaſing as the reſt:
Yet who doth meditate, ſhall ſurely finde,
Winter may be compared with the beſt.
Our Sauiour Chriſt was borne in this ſeaſon:
A bleſſed tyme to each one that hath reaſon.

WInter, according to our Engliſhe bil for this yeere. 1597. taketh beginning on Monday the .xii. of December foregoing: at what tyme the Sunne entred into the firſt Scruple of the ſigne Capricorne, the nyght being now longeſt, and the day at the ſhorteſt with vs.

Concerneng the generall inclination, and affection of the ayre, I finde by many artificiall circumſtaunces, that it wyll not greatly vary from the proper qualitie therof: that is, to be colde and moyſt, with many blaſterying, rough, and ſtormy blaſtes. In Januarie, about the fyrſt quarter of the Moone, I iudge it wyll be much geuen to colde rayne or ſleete, and that anone after the full of the Moone, ſome hard froſty weather, (and now and then ſnow) is likely to continue for .vi. or .viii. dayes together. Februarie wyll be boyſterous wyndy, as I do conſecture, and about the new Moone, ſome dayning ſnow for two dayes together, with ſome litle intermiſſion. And after the fyrſt quarter, very kindly weather, with ſome ſhewers of raine and haile. The reſt of this quarter, the weather ſeemeth to be very variable, yet kindly and ſeaſonable.

Diſeaſes commonly raigning this winter quarter, are the goute, the Sciatica, payne in the head, necke, and ſhoulders, ſome kinde of feuers, meaſels, toothache, retumes, quartane ague, melancholie paſſions, with diuers other greefes and maladies which to anoide, or with patience to beare, addresse you to him, that can and will in his good time giue you all things sufficient: not altogether neglecting the counsell and meanes of the godly and learned phisition.

But meddle not with those vnlearned bee:
Least seeking helpe, they make an end of thee.

Of the Spring.

Come is the sweete, delyghtfull pleasant spring,
Whose iackets greene doth make him well beknowne:
Both Byrdes and Beasts, for ioy doth skip and syng.
Syth sharpest winter blastes are ouerblowne.
And ought not man most thankfull for to bee,
That of such pleasures shall both taste and see?

THe Spryng doth begin on the xi. daye of Marche, for this present yeere 1597. at the entrance of the Sunne into the signe Aries, and now is the daye and night equall in length. And although Aries be a signe hot and dry, cholericke of complexion, bitter of taste, mouable, of the day, masculine, easterly, and of the fyer. e Trigon, yet herein such effect the lunne worketh, that it is the most pleasant and temperate time of the yeere, and not subiect to such inconueniences as other times doe bring, nor annoying liuing creatures with any great distemperatures. And although this season be naturallie warme and moyst, and of great temperature, and therefore healthfull of it selfe, yet bringeth it forth many sicknesses: not engendring them by excesse, but rather discouering such by it owne temperature of other times. I am induced to thinke, that the weather in this season will fall out to be according to the proper qualitie thereof. Yet oftentimes variably disposed, as sometimes boistrous windes, which will drie vp the moysture, and about mid Marche, fayre, goodlie, and cleare weather. In Aprill pleasant showers, and yet sometime boystrous. May, is partly inclined to be hot, yet yeelding some colde blastes, and now and then a happie shud of rayne.

Sicknesses vsually shewing themselues, are Measels, small Pocks,

Pore, Coughes, Squinsies, Iaundies, hote burning Feuers, and diuers other, not pleasant to name, but more vnpleasant to feele now is it very conuenient to conferre with the learned practicioner in phisicke, for the expelling such matter as diseases feed vpon.

And yet beware of such as haue no skill,
For many such, insteed of helpe doth kyll.

Of Summer.

Most comfortable season Summer is,
To walke abrode to take the pleasant ayre:
Haue God in minde, you shall not do amis,
To view each thing that holsome is and fayre.
Remembring styll from whom such blessings spring,
And yeeld him thankes, which is no costly thing.

SVmmer hath beginning the 12. daye of June, at the very entring of the Sunne into the signe Cancer. Nowe is the Sumuer Solstice, the longest day, and shortest night in all the yeere, the Sunne being at this instant in his greatest declination towards the North: which season continueth vntill the xiii. of September, at which time the Sunne mooueth into the first face of Lybra.

The predominant qualities of this season, according to his proper nature, are heate and drinesse: in respect whereof, it is said to resemble fire and choller: and euen nowe doe hot chollericke humors most abounda[illegible] reigne and rage in mans body, then in any other quarter of the yeare.

Touching the inclination of the weather in this quarter, in regarde of some artificiall circumstances, I gather, that the extreame heate thereof may be alayed with some sweete shewers now and then, and calme windes to follow the same, that it will be found a most comfortable and happy season. About the middest of July, I doe coniecture, that in some partes there will bee heard great and terrible cracks of thunder, to the amazing of such as are weake in faith: Whome I wish for their comfort, to resort to him by humble prayer, that is able to commaund all to his glory, and our good.

Concerning infirmities, such are likely to grieue vs, as are partly before rehearsed. Also hot burning feuers, wherof some dying, it will bee suspected the Plague Measels, Burp'es, and small Pore, molesting chiefly the yonger sort: with some other maladies, not vsually raigning. Our mercifull and good Lord, thy great and onely healing phisition, graunt vs patience, and health, as it seemeth best to his diuine wisedome.

Phisicke receiued from the learned sort,
Commaunded is by God, for our comfort.

Of Autumne, or Haruest.

Haruest once brought to good and happy end,
Yeeldes cause to all, to giue thalmightie praise:
Who of his mercie plentie still doth send,
Which sinfull man abuseth many wayes.
Amend such Lord, as ill enclined bee:
Correct the vso, as best seemes vnto thee.

THe last part or quarter of our Astronomicall yeere called Autumne, Ver autem, or Fall of the leafe, taketh beginning on the xiii. day of September, at the precise entring of the Sun into the signe Lybra, the daye and night being now againe of equall length.

This season by nature is colde and drye, and therefore applied vnto melancholy of the earth, to the Splene in mans body, and also to the Northern region.

Vsually obserued, the weather is likein this quarter to fall out very variable and inconstant, about the middest of September pleasant and fayre, and towardes the end of the same, store of raine. In November, sometime frost, and sometimes rains, and neere the end of the month Frosts and Snowes, and so often change of weather to the end of this quarter.

This time of the yeere are in my greeuous and troublesome sicknesses raging, as Quotidian and Quartane Agues, blacke Iaundies, crampes, conuulsions, the Goute, Sciatica, Emeroddes, Measels, Pose, and diuers others, not easily to be remooued.

Remoue good Lord the cause and then the effect,
Shall goodnesse bring, to those are thine elect.
